Offering an Innovation

Medical "drug delivery" technology for cosmetics

INdermal is the cosmetic division of Nanovex Biotechnologies, a biotechnology-based company specialized in the development of drug delivery systems for the obtention of new drugs and systems for the treatment of diseases. Thanks to our technology, know-how and experience, we have developed a specific system for encapsulation and dermal release of high-efficiency liposome-based actives. The result? Cosmetics up to 10 times more effective.
